

Katharine Clint

Learning Coordinator

0118 378 6990

ure@reading.ac.uk or k.a.clint@reading.ac.uk

Katharine is the Learning Coordinator at the Ure Museum of Greek Archaeology. She studied History at the University of Newcastle before training as a primary school teacher. As well as promoting history in schools, she valued subjects that encourage thinking skills, problem solving and team-working through hands-on activities and discussions, such as Science and Design & Technology. Katharine has lived in South Africa and the Czechia, and continues to enjoy exploring and reading about different places and periods.